Emailed by Glenn June 2010 :Hopefully you've all heard by now the wonderful news, but if not, here it is again: We're not "just" pregnant, we're pregnant with TRIPLETS! :-)

I'm sure you'd like more details, so here's what we know and can share at this point. We're expecting two girls and a boy - sound familiar, Mike and Martha? :-) Our original due date (when we still thought we were expecting just one) was December 27, but triplets will arrive somewhat sooner by necessity - most likely around early November, although there's a lot of potential variation.

Heather's doing very well with the pregnancy so far - no morning sickness, just some food aversions and cravings, she's gaining weight well, her blood pressure and blood sugar are staying healthy, etc. She'll almost certainly have to go on bed rest later in the pregnancy, but at this point it's just a matter of taking it easy, not staying out in the summer heat, and so forth. The babies are also doing wonderfully so far - strong heartbeats, and they're growing well, nearly full size each despite there being three of them. I'm attaching an ultrasound to show the three little ones all nestled in together - it's pretty amazing to me to think that they'll be full-grown babies soon!

We're feverishly working to get prepared for the triplets' arrival in the not-too-distant future. We confirmed that our SUV ("big enough to transport kids around in, even if we have twins", we'd thought when we bought it) will just barely hold three infant car seats side-by-side, so that's good. Triplet strollers are hard to find and can be very expensive, but Heather found us a great deal on a used one off Craigslist (here's what it'll look like with car seats attached: <http://www.doubledeckerstroller.com/images-2004/td-triplet.jpg> - think we'll attract attention? :-)). We've joined the "Triplet Connection" online and signed up for their mailing list, we've started attending the monthly meetings for "Triangle Mothers of Twins and Triplets" and "Durham-Chapel Hill Mothers of Multiples), Heather's watching Craigslist and Freecycle for bargains and freebies - in short, we are preparing for parenthood and triplets as well as we possibly can!

Hello everyone

Toot toot !!!! - that's me..... I'm here to tell you that I am the featured Storyteller of the Week on the web-site for the city of Baltimore public library - Enoch Pratt Library.

The web page address is below. From there you follow the links to e-stories and look for my name. I have two stories.
One from my voice.
One from the voice of the Medieval Time Traveler, Biddy O'Byrne.
<http://www.pratt.lib.md.us>

Beth Vaughan came to storytelling with a background in theater, as performer, teacher and director. Her style of telling reflects that training and experience. Her personal cultural background comes from the Celtic countries, and her choice of story material reflects that heritage. She combines theater and storytelling with her passion for the value of the imagination in educating children, with her workshop residencies - "Listen, then...Become". She is included in the Maryland State Arts Council's roster of Artists in Education. She teaches a Towson University course, "Literacy enhancement through storytelling and the theater arts". Sometimes, through the voice of "Biddy O'Byrne - Medieval Time Traveler from Ireland", Beth tells folk tales and myths as if they are 'the news of the day'.

June 2002 was Mark and Chris' 25th wedding anniversary. They celebrated with an Alaskan Cruise.

March 2008: Our dear Christy died yesterday, March 1, about 2PM. Her husband, Mark; children, Aaron, Amanda, and Jeremy and their spouses; Mom, and sisters and brother were with her. Chris had been doing very well, and had been moved to a step-down unit. No one is sure what happened, but her blood pressure started dropping and she coded. The staff was able to bring her back, but she never regained consciousness. She was taken back to ICU, put on a ventilator and lots of medication to try to raise her blood pressure. Nothing worked. She passed away very gently and quickly with her family surrounding her.

The visitation will be Tuesday, March 4, from 3-8pm at the Merritt Funeral Home in Mendota, IL. The funeral will be Wednesday, March 5 at the Tonica United Methodist Church with a dinner to follow in the church basement. Chris will be cremated after the services and according to her wishes, her ashes will eventually be scattered over the family farm.

We would like to thank each and every one of you for your prayers, good thoughts, and help during this excruciatingly difficult time. Love, Kathy
